

TriEvents Competition Policy

Prizes and Awards

In accordance with national and international standards of racing, TriEvents will apply the following policy to all events where prizes and awards are announced.

Prizes for all TriEvents' events will be distributed to male and female categories in equal value and depth.

Where prize money is announced for elite competitions, male and female categories will be equal in value by placing and on a pro-rata basis for depth.

Pro-rata Basis for Depth:

For all events where prize money is offered, the following minimum requirements will be applied to award prize money:

- To pay prize money to 5th place there must be a minimum of 10 participants in the one category.
- To pay prize money to 4th place there must be a minimum of 8 participants in the one category.
- To pay prize money to 3rd place there must be a minimum of 6 participants in the one category.
- To pay prize money to 2nd place there must be a minimum of 4 participants in the one category.
- To pay prize money for 1st place there must be a minimum of 2 participants in the one category.

Attendance at Presentations:

For all events where prize money is offered, the following penalties will be applied where athletes do not attend presentations:

- Where an athlete does not attend presentations, they will forfeit 50% of the prize money allocated to their position.
- Athletes have 5 days from the day of the competition to return their prize money form or they will forfeit all prize money allocated to their position.

TriEvents will not accept any apologies for absences from presentations. The above will apply under all circumstances.

This policy will apply to all events in which TriEvents own and operate.

Please refer to individual events for further information on race rules and participation in events.
